Re: Reference Letter

To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to recommend Jason Jewik as a candidate for a position with your organization. In his previous position as Streaming Media Intern at ODK Media, Inc., Jason was employed for 3 months term. Throughout his time with our organization, he demonstrated skills that would make him an excellent employee at your organization.

Jason's knowledge about principal understanding of programming has made valuable distribution to our company. During these three months, he has supported us to create/publish Roku app, create feed generator, Run Social Marketing automation, and helped out content operation including video transcoding and uploading.

Jason did a terrific job in his position and was an asset to our organization during his short period of internship with the office. He has excellent verbal and written communication skills, is organized, can work independently, and is able to effectively multi-task to ensure that all projects are completed in a timely manner.

Jason was always willing to offer his assistance and had excellent rapport with other colleagues. This would be particularly valuable for your company to have a candidate who can effectively communicate with people across departments.

He would be an asset to any employer, and I wholeheartedly recommend him for any endeavor he chooses to pursue. Please let me know if you have any further question.

Sincerely,
